

FAIRFIELD PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The Education Center

October 12, 2012

Dear Osborn Hill Community:

The mobile laptop cart has arrived and is ready to go. We are now waiting to hear from the vendor regarding delivery of the wireless access points. Once that is complete, the laptop cart will be effective and we can begin to service the students with full computer lab capability.

Delivery of the portable gymnasium is scheduled for the week of October 22nd. The portable gym has been constructed and is only waiting for the light fixtures to arrive. Once the light fixtures are installed, the gymnasium will be delivered, and the students can enjoy physical education in a shiny new space.

Lab results from the additional sampling in the gymnasium are expected shortly. Based on these results, there may be a need for additional sampling and we will keep you posted. The remediation plan for the library/corridor/bathroom area is being submitted to the EPA today for approval. Once approved, the remediation contractor can begin to work on this area.

We look forward to the next two weeks and plan to have another update for you on October 26th. By that time, we expect to see a new portable gym and a fully functional computer lab on a cart. Plans are also in the works for a Fairfield Public Library bookmobile, but we'll provide more information on that in our next letter.

Sincerely,

David G. Title, Superintendent

Frank Arnone, Principal
