As a teenager, Joan of Arc led an army to drive the English out of northern France. Captured, she was burned at the stake as a witch and a heretic. Her martyrdom inspired the French people, who drove the English out of France. Joan of Arc was born on January 6, 1412. | |  Plastic Ducky Fleet Sails the Pacific: 20th Anniversary During a storm in the North Pacific Ocean on January 10, 1992, a ship lost several cargo containers containing almost 30,000 bathtub toys, including more than 7,000 plastic yellow duckies. Scientists used the opportunity to use the duckies to study ocean currents and wind patterns, as well as plastic pollution. Ducks have been found on the shores of Hawaii, Alaska, South America, Australia and the Pacific Northwest; others have been found frozen in Arctic ice. Still others have somehow made their way as far as Scotland and Newfoundland, in the Atlantic. |
